DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1 – 88, drawn to an image obtaining method and corresponding apparatus wherein an image information receiver selects an image file name from an image file directory presented from an image pick-up device and receives an image of the selected file name from the image pick-up device, classified in class 348, subclass 211.4.
 - II. Claims 89 – 98, drawn to a print system including an image transmitter which transmits an image and corresponding information to a printer, which prints the received image and corresponding information, classified in class 348, subclass 207.2.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions II and I are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different modes of operations, different functions, and different effects. More specifically, Invention I is concerned with an image pickup device that picks up an image upon request for an image file and transmits the picked up image file image and an image file directory structure, as stored within the image pickup device, to an image information receiving device; wherein Invention II is concerned with an image pickup device for picking up or inputting an image, deciding whether or not the picked up image or input image is larger than a required printing size by a printer; resizing the respective image sizes to the required printing size and transmitting the image to a printer as a print image. Lastly, the inventions are not disclosed as capable of use together.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
